

10-9-17 Why not ask?

The company that makes Legos – you know, those plastic building blocks – recently had a job opening for a designer. One applicant in particular caught their eye.

The candidate's name was Stanley Bolland. He loved Legos. He had experience in building with them. "I am the man for the job," he said.

What made Stanley unique among job candidates, though, was his age: Stanley was only six years old.

The company was so impressed with Stanley's sincerity that they offered him a job for a day, shadowing an experienced Lego designer.

Which reminds me of something Jesus said: "Ask, and it will be given to you; search, and you will find; knock, and the door will be opened for you."

Just a thought. I'm Sid Batts from First Presbyterian Church in downtown Greensboro, overlooking Fisher Park.
